

EXPLORE-a-BOOK BENCH TRAIL DESIGN ENTRY FORM

Explore-a-book is a brand-new book bench trail that is coming to west Norfolk this spring, funded by the Norfolk Strategic Fund, and organised by the Borough Council of King's Lynn & West Norfolk in partnership with Stories of Lynn. The benches are being supplied by arts organisation Wild In Art, who have produced trails in this country and abroad.

Seven benches for the trail have already been designed by professional artists, a further three will feature designs from local young people.

If you want to have a chance of having your idea or artwork displayed on one of the benches, then just explore your imagination, explore the area, explore the history, be inspired and send us your design. Draw your design in the box, then add your contact details, and let us know which area you will produce your design for. A selection of images will be chosen for each bench, worked into a montage by a local artist, and then reproduced onto the benches. Good luck with your entries. We look forward to seeing your designs.

- The upper age limit for submissions is 16
- Please tick if you are submitting your entry for:
